

Questionnaire

No generalized survey can do justice to determining eligibility for the potential tax benefits related to disability. *** A personal confidential review is required, and must be extremely detailed. At DTS we don't create a form to fill out, we simply suggest that if you answer yes to any of the following, you should call or email us to set up a free initial consultation. Does Any Of The Following Apply To You Or a Family Member?

For the parents of a child with a disability:

My child has a disability that impairs his or her ability to perform one or more regular daily activity (Examples: walking, speaking, hearing, dressing, eating, or coping with social or work situations).

We have a child with a disability and one parent devotes significant time to the care of that child, such that they are not fully employed.

My child requires therapy or special medical devices for a visible disability, or a non-visible disability such as a learning disability.

My child is falling behind in school or social skills as a result of disability.

My child receives specialized assistance at school as a result of disability.

For adult persons with a disability:

I have a disability that impairs my ability to perform one or more regular daily activity (Examples: walking, speaking, hearing, dressing, eating, or coping with social or work situations).

There are significant costs related to my disability.

I undergo regular therapy, either physical or mental.

I applied for the disability tax credit certificate, but was denied.

I once qualified for the disability tax credit certificate, but was later denied that status.

*** A detailed and lengthy confidential review is required to ascertain potential eligibility for disability tax credits and or benefits. As such, the preceding article is provided as general information only and should not be used as the basis for any financial decisions. Detailed information on disability tax rules and regulations can be found at the Canada Revenue Agency Website at <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/disability> "